WEDNESDAY, APRIL 29, 1896.

The Democratic Party, the assistant Republican campaign, died at Brighton, Eng., yesterday in the 76th year.

A part of the Northwestern patents issued during the week ending yesterday will be found in another column.

The Royal Geographic Committee, now in the Red Sea, has had six cases of cholera on board. Three have proved fatal.

Mr. Bowers, of New York, made the principal speech in opposition to the Bourbon Tariff bill in the House yesterday.

Henry H. Lowden, a New York tailor, has made an assignment. His liabilities are placed at $100,000. The assets are $50,000.

By a vote of 164 to 151 the Senate of the University of Oxford, England, decided yesterday to admit women to the lower examinations.

The Senate passed the Pacific Funding bill to the amended form described in THE TRIBUNE'S Washington dispatches yesterday by a vote of 51 to 12.

Eight Guards of Illinois, including State of most of the team members, are holding a Shenandoah a quarterly session of the Riverside Association.

Mr. Bowers, of Ohio, United States Minister to France under President Hayes, was entertained Monday night at a banquet in Paris by prominent American residents of that city.

Commissioner Hermann has been instructed by the Republicans of the Second District of Maine that Fourth District has an essential Congressman Reynolds. Both the cases have instructed for Reed.

A serious engineer in San Antonio, Tex., named Havens, exploded yesterday afternoon. The shock of the explosion was felt in Harper, and it was thought that it was an earthquake. Several houses in the same town severely injured.

The disaffected Republican Convention for Virginia, which meets in Richmond to-day, will, it is believed, instruct the delegates-at-large to the National Convention at Chicago to vote for Reed. The district delegates to be selected will also favor Reed.

Three will be ceremonies of much interest when the Exchange building, at the southwest corner of Clark and Washington streets, is sold by the new owners. The sale, which is to be consummated on the 4th, will be the signal for the demolition of the structure, which will be erected soon by Gary Bros.

The Republican Convention of the Second District of Massachusetts yesterday adopted a resolution stating that the leading new questions now confronting the American people are the tariff and the restoration of the gold standard.

The Chicago produce market was unusually dull and exceedingly rather weak, with a decided tendency of business. An even trade was hardly done during the day. In the wheat pit 47,000 bushels changed hands, and 1,000,000 bushels were sold in the country. Corn was weak and easy, and 1,000,000 bushels were sold. Hogs were weak, with larger receipts. The visible supply of wheat is reported to have increased 2,000,000 bushels, and of corn 1,000,000 bushels during last week.

The ordinance passed by the Chicago Common Council Monday night, giving the Chicago & Eastern Railroad Company the right to lay tracks for a steam railway on Archer, Stephenson, and Harrison streets, and Western avenue, and having been vetoed by the Mayor, is now law.

The funeral of the late Rev. Jeremiah O'Neill, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, took place yesterday, and was largely attended by the Catholic clergymen of the diocese and by prominent laymen. Father Dolan, of Evanston (Ill., D.), a fellow-student of the deceased, preached the funeral sermon.

Ex-Solicitor Edmonds, of Louisiana, was placed on trial in the United States Circuit Court in Washington yesterday on the charge of complicity in the Mercantile frauds. A jury was secured in brief time, and Mr. Bradley opened the case for the prosecution. J. H. Fitts, the person who alleges he paid $50,000 in money and notes to Edmonds, was the only witness examined yesterday.

Gen. Lloyd's friends have their hopes for the success of his candidacy on the belief that neither Gorman nor Arthur will have a majority in the National Convention, and that a majority of the supporters of both will take the Illinois Senator as a second choice. They do not regard Edmonds as a formidable candidate for the reason that Arthur cannot transfer his Southern supporters to the Virginian Senator.

It is understood that the Iowa Republican Convention, which will meet in Council Bluffs, will select delegates-at-large from among the following: S. H. Sutton, John L. Peyton, Col. Charles H. Lewis, Joseph B. Clark, George E. Roberts, and Col. Charles D. Cleveland. They are pledged to their preference, Arthur, Reed, Sherman, and Edmonds having friends among them.

Governor Hastings, a North Dakota statesman-politician, was shot and killed by his brother-in-law yesterday morning in Iowa Junction, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia, where he employed to look after certain coal lands, and to whom he paid $5, but who refused to let the work. Hastings, who has been arrested, says he killed Rudolf on account of a dollar, expresses no sorrow for his act, and seems himself with saying he is "going to the devil anyhow."

It is understood that the delegates to be selected by the Wisconsin Republican Convention at Madison today, which nominally for Presidential, will be divided between Reed, Edmonds, and Arthur. Reed has the largest following. The convention will consist of 260 delegates. The Arthur men are working hard. The dangers existed in the election of committees will be in the difference between the Reed and the Arthur men.

Mr. Evans, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has arrived at Louisville, and a number of on the Arthur candidates for Chairman of the Kentucky Republican Convention, which meets in that city tomorrow. The Louisville primary elections were lively ones indeed, and there will be interesting delegations from the Democratic counties. It is the general impression that the session of the State Convention will intervene to the extreme. Representative Culbertson and John D. Wick will be on the ground. There are serious chances of fraud against the Administration men on account of the way the primaries were conducted in Louisville.

It is thought that Gen. Hobart's charges against Secretary Carlisle will come to nothing. Gen. Hobart has frequently urged without avail a better and more aggressive tariff policy. It is believed that the charges which he makes against Carlisle, and which were printed in yesterday's TRIBUNE, were submitted to Gen. Grosvenor and approved by him. Secretary Carlisle came to Chicago from Washington. He declared that the charges were false in every particular, and added that Gen. Hobart was not authorized by the Administration to make them. Secretary Carlisle returned to Washington. He declared that the charges were false in every particular, and added that Gen. Hobart was not authorized by the Administration to make them. Secretary Carlisle returned to Washington. He declared that the charges were false in every particular, and added that Gen. Hobart was not authorized by the Administration to make them.

Democratic Chairman Wilkinson says that he and those who act with him on the County Board propose getting several Cleveland Democrats on the ballot by starting one day or more ahead of the Democratic Convention. Should Chairman Lindinger's ruling of Monday on the Democratic resolution by stating one day or a time as a reappearance of two days stand. Then, he thinks, a majority who will be men-about-town lawyers of the city, men who may not be done under the rules, and that when the appropriations under one or more aggregate appropriations under one or more subsidiary exact $100 a resolution more is necessary. Mr. John M. Ahern, another Democratic ex-member of Gen. Gilbert's committee, says that the action proposed, even though the appropriation be but $100, is illegal and unconstitutional, and if executed is very subject to prosecution by criminal prosecution. The board, he says, might do well indignantly pursue to tell the Governor or the Sheriff or to designate persons to help county officers.

Reports from all the counties of Iowa indicate that the delegates from them to the Iowa State Republican Convention, which meets in the Home today, stand: 272 for Reed, 36 for Logan, 36 for Arthur, 12 for Edmonds, preference unknown, 10. The two counties not heard from will be represented by nine delegates. In the various Congressional districts, except the First and Second, the Reed men have a handsome majority. In the First District the Reed delegates are 40 to 20 for all others, and in the Second District the Reed delegates are 40 to 20 for all others. Under apportionment the First District delegates are Linn County; J. S. Clarkson, of Des Moines, Warren, of Jasper County; and J. C. Dana, of Mills County; all Reed men. It is understood that Frank Hatton has no chance to become a delegate, through unwillingness, on account of the sentiment of Clinton as a central Iowa right there now.

Four men witnesses murdered last Saturday evening $1,000,000 bushels of wheat, 2,000,000 bushels of corn, 100,000 bushels of oats, 500,000 bushels of rye, and 100,000 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 13,000,000 bushels. Against 10,000,000 bushels a week ago, and 14,000,000 bushels at the same time last year. A few days ago an Board bought in the better half,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000 bushels of corn, 100,000 bushels of oats, and 17,000 bushels of rye.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada at the date was included 6,000,000 bushels of wheat, 11,000,000 bushels of corn, 2,000,000 bushels of oats, 1,000,000 bushels of rye, and 100,000 bushels of barley.

Congressman Payne, of this city, made a most eloquent address in the House yesterday in favor of the Bourbon bill. It was listened to attentively by a full house, and the close Republicans was warmly complimented at the conclusion of his speech. It is said that the National Legislature had no just right to tax one man for the benefit of another, maintained that a protective tariff destroyed our foreign commerce, robbed the American carrying trade, oppressed the agricultural interests of the country, depressed the wages of American workingmen, stopped the industrial progress of the country at the mercy of monopolists, and shut up the doors of our manufactories which are now closed. He emphatically alluded to the pernicious Democratic principle which created against the doctrine of every Democratic platform since the time of Jefferson, and who were pursued in the party organization. He denounced the Sun Democratic bolt plank as unauthorized and tolerable, and while Gov. Peyton, author of the plank, declared it a mere platitude, Hon. Hutchinson has to admit the "perfect Democracy of this" on the issue. When Lloyd was nominated, Senator, another Ohio Democrat, appointed the Union to a speech of some length, which the Democratic-wise hated him and are trying to explain.

Two Knights of Labor, of this city, have been arrested in Cincinnati on the charge of having conspired with Italy per Emery, but we don't say it was sure. In a long communication from Master C. Litchman, covering for the Executive Committee, the writer holds that the "Labor law" extends a prohibition to and Italy and is therefore properly imposed by State only before that no such prohibition should be granted by law. He refuses to recognize the term of the agreement already made by Gen. Thurston, whose position is that: The right to sell Italy as a commodity has been repealed, and a license should, instead of encouraging that right, limit it and make it a certain condition. A license should only confer property to sell to prohibit the sale of liquor up to a certain point than to grant a privilege for the same.

But Mr. Litchman turns it over to a variety of ways, confusing to beg the question in every case. Now there is one very simple fact. Because all the statutes in Illinois relative to liquor traffic were repealed. Would there then be or would there not be the right to sell liquor? Undoubtedly that right would exist. The courts have of course a power and over such acts. It is a privilege or makers law. If the politicians in Springfield should pass a statute saying that no person should sell liquor without a license, would the privilege or to sell liquor be taken away? Certainly not. The granting of the liquor traffic is prohibited to this by constitutional enactment more than thirty years ago, but the sale of liquor has subsisted right along under the occupation rights. If all the statutes and ordinances in Illinois were repealed from the books still under the privilege of selling liquor would still remain as a right to maintain law. Since it is evident that no statute in the State confers a privilege or permission to sell liquor, because the citizen possesses that right from the common law. But under the Illinois statutes and "Dramm laws" the amount and liquor allowed to be sold under certain conditions, which shows that the statutes do not confer the privilege, but limit the restrictions to the nature of taxes, fines, and penalties upon the exercise of the common law rights.

The new law of the old Democrats and not to exactly true of the "Sharpe-Lloyds law," which is a remarkable measure. Under the Democratic act of 1874 it was provided that the undistributed privilege of selling liquor should not be conferred except upon payment of $50 per annum. Under the Sharpe law it is declared that the exercise of the common privilege, which is not wholly taken away by the statute, may be conferred upon the payment of $500 per annum. The effect of the Democratic law is to confer upon the rich the

A POWDER EXPLOSION.

HAVANA, April 29.—During the afternoon the whole city was shaken by several concussions. The report were terrific and were heard and felt for many miles around. It was thought at first that the powder magazine at San Antonio, on the eastern side of the city, had exploded, but later it was found that the powder magazine at Hesbach, fifty leagues to the eastward, had been blown up.

Later—The first explosion occurred in the magazine of the fort of Jesus del Monte, situated on the summit of a small hill, forming a part of the chain of hills which run through the centre of the island. The second shock, believed to be the result of the explosion of gas, followed the first, but instead of the explosion of the powder magazine at Hesbach, it was the explosion of the Bernaza Gunpowder Company's magazine at Regla, on the opposite side of the bay, which was blown up

WHERE ARE THE GEMS?

The Diamond-Broker Swears He Traded Them for Chips at Mike McDonald's.

And Then Lost the Chips in Trying to Hit the Boss of Kidd's Faro-Bank.

The Detectives Have Re-Bought Two Pieces of Jewelry and Broke All Knowledge of the Rest of the Stuff.

In the latter part of 1883 a man named Abraham J. Phillips, a Boston diamond-broker, was sent to selling diamonds for a member of New York and Boston jewelry houses, arrived in New York City from an extended Western trip and informed his employers that he had been robbed of all the jewelry in his possession, on a train on the New York & Hudson River Railroad. He stated that the man, to the possession of which were necessary to the value of upwards of $20,000, had taken them from under the pillow of the passenger he knew to be a diamond-broker and while he was asleep. In connection with the alleged robbery he gave a minute description of a tall, dark man who answered to the name, and he set about the work of endeavoring to find the thief. The next morning a man described as the supposed robber was found on the eastern-bound train and arrested. He was taken to Albany, and there, before Justice Miller, the officer in the prosecution, he was searched, but nothing was found upon his person. He was then taken to the Police Station and locked up for the night. The next morning he was taken before Justice Miller, and, after a hearing, was discharged, as no evidence was found against him. The prisoner was then taken back to the Police Station and released. He then left the city, and the matter was dropped.

Nothing was heard of the matter until last week, when Phillips, who had been in Europe, returned to this city. He then called upon the officers who had charge of the case, and informed them that he had found the man who had robbed him. He stated that he had met the man in Chicago, and that he had induced him to go to Mike McDonald's gambling-house, on Clark street, near Van Buren, and there had induced him to play faro. He stated that he had lost all the money he had with him, and then had staked the diamonds, and that he had lost them also. He stated that he had then left the man and had not seen him since. He also stated that he had seen the man in New York City, and that he had followed him to Boston, where he had lost sight of him. He then came to New York, and, meeting the man, had induced him to go to Chicago. THE CITY.

PERSONAL.

Gen. J. C. C. Lee, U. S. A., and Hon. Dan. A. Gladwell, of Springfield, are at the Palmer.

Messrs. Samuel Orwell, John Tripp, and Enright C. Gaskell, of the State Board of Agriculture, are at the Sherman.

Admiral Farragut of Scotland, Prof. Dr. Daniel Holmes of Cambridge, Mass., and Prince Lubkomirski of Atlanta, Ga., and J. S. Addison of Cincinnati, are at the Grand Pacific.

IN GENERAL.

The successor to Gen. Lisle, as Superintendent of the Water Department, has not yet been appointed, and no applications have been made for the place.

The assessment for the proposed boulevard from Jackson Park south to the Illinois & Michigan Canal is payable at the office of the County Treasurer.

Mayor Harrison says he will take 215 Lake's dog collars, as he considers that the wearing of dogs will cause them to become well educated curs.

Louis J. Bennett, a schoolmaster of No. 72 Davis Street, failed to hold sufficient marriage in some of his sermons on polygamy, and was arrested yesterday for the offense.

Jacob Schaefer has given up practicing for the shoemakers' benefit-seeking trade. Nothing serious, however, is likely to be the matter unless he be struck by the sheriff or overtook.

Excelsior Lodge, No. 68, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the order, by a full turn-out of the members, at the Farwell Hall last evening.

Gilbert Lahey, janitor of the building at the southwest corner of Jackson street and Wabash avenue, fell from an upper story to the pavement while engaged washing sash on the outside of the building, yesterday morning, and received injuries which will probably result fatally. He leaves a family of six small children.

Bridget Haigh was taken to Cook county hospital by Deputy-Sheriff John Hathaway, who was informed that she attempted several times to commit suicide by throwing herself in front of street cars. The unfortunate woman is deranged.

There were thirteen whisky licenses taken out the first quarter yesterday, and one went for a beer saloon license for four months, and three grocery licenses for one month, and three grocery licenses for six months. The total amount received was $1,500, and the number of licenses issued was 6 and 6,125, and the total receipts $10,000.
